WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Susan B. Anthony Found Guilty of Violating a State Law—Opinion of Judge Hunt.

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y., June 18.—Judge Hunt, in his opinion in the case of Susan B. Anthony, says: The right of voting, or the privilege of voting, is a right or privilege arising under the Constitution of the State, and not of the United States. If the right belongs to any particular person, it is because such person is entitled to it as a citizen of the State where he offers to exercise it, and not because of citizenship of the United States. If the State of New York should provide that no person should vote until he had reached the age of thirty-one years, or after he had reached the age of fifty, or that no person having gray hair, or who had not possession of all his limbs, should be entitled to vote, I do not see how it could be held to be a violation of any right derived or held under the Constitution of the United States. If the Legislature of the State of New York should require a higher qualification in a voter for a Representative in Congress than is required in a voter for a member of the Assembly, this would, I conceive, be a violation of a right belonging to one as a citizen of the United States. That right is in relation to a Federal subject or interest, and can be guaranteed by the Federal Constitution. The inability of a State to abridge the right of voting on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude is a federal guaranty. Its violation would be a denial of a federal right, that is, a right belonging to a claimant as a citizen of the United States. This right exists by virtue of the Fifteenth Amendment only. If the Fifteenth Amendment had contained the word "sex," the argument of the defense would have been potent. She would have said an attempt by a State to deny the right to vote because one is of a particular sex, is expressly prohibited by the amendment. The amendment, however, does not contain that word. It is limited to race, color or previous condition of servitude. The Legislature of the State of New York has seen fit to say that the franchise of voting shall be limited to the male sex. In saying this, there is, in my judgment, no violation of the letter or of the spirit of the Fourteenth Amendment. This view is assured in the second section of the Fourteenth Amendment, which enacts that if the right to vote for federal officers is denied by any State to any of the male inhabitants of such State, except for crime, the basis of representation of such State shall be reduced in the proportion specified. Not only does this section assume that the right of male inhabitants to vote was the especial object of its protection, but it assumes and admits the right of a State, notwithstanding the existence of that clause, under which the defendant claims to the contrary, to deny to any of the male inhabitants the right to vote which is allowed to other male inhabitants. The regulation of the suffrage is conceded to States as a State's right. The case of Myra Bradwell, decided at the recent term of the Supreme Court of the United States, sustains both of these questions. The Fourteenth Amendment gives no right to the women to vote, and the voting by Miss Anthony was in violation of law. If she believed she had a right to vote, does that release her from the penalty? It is argued that knowledge referred to in the act relates to her knowledge of the illegality of the act, and not to the act of voting; for, it is said, that she must know that she voted. Two principles apply here: First, ignorance of the law excuses no one; second, every person is presumed to understand and to intend the necessary effects of his own acts. Miss Anthony knew that she was a woman, and that the Constitution of the State prohibits her from voting. She intended to violate that provision; intended to test it, perhaps, but certainly intended to violate it. The necessary effect of her act was to violate it, and then she is presumed to have intended it. There was no ignorance of any fact, but all the facts being known, she undertook to settle a principle in her own person. She takes the risk, and she ought not to shrink from the consequence.

The Court declined to submit the case to the jury upon any question whatever, and directed them to render a verdict of guilty against the defendant.

Judge Selden, counsel for Miss Anthony, then requested the clerk to poll the jury, which request was denied by the Court, and a verdict of guilty was rendered.

The defendant's counsel excepted to the decree and the action of the Court, and insisted that upon the construction given to the law by the decision there had been only a violation of the State law, and that the United States Court had no jurisdiction. Sentence has not yet been pronounced.

The escort accompanying the party number two hundred armed men, and no serious trouble is anticipated. After the skirmish the survey was resumed.

Pedestrianism.

OTTAWA, CAN., June 18.—A walking match took place to-day from Ann Prior to Ottawa, a distance of forty miles, one hundred dollars a side, between Pace, the English professional pedestrian, and Sparks, a land surveyor. The men started from Ann Prior at 4:30 A. M., and when half way Pace led by half a mile. Ten miles from Ottawa he suddenly gave out, and Sparks came in winner at 12:29 P. M., having walked the distance within eight hours. Pace was the favorite. Considerable money changed hands.

A Missing Man Found.

NEW YORK, June 18.—J. E. Van Doren, son of Rev. L. H. Van Doren, of Boonton, New Jersey, missing some eight months, has turned up. A letter has been received from him dated Rotterdam, in which he says he left his home in Brooklyn for a day's gunning. While ducking near Fire Island his boat was capsized and his companion drowned. Clinging to the bottom of the upturned boat he drifted out to sea, and on the following morning, when almost exhausted, was picked up by a Swedish bark bound for Buenos Ayres. When fifty-four days out the Swede boarded a British bark, bound from the Pacific to Rotterdam, and all consenting, young Van Doren was transferred and carried to Rotterdam, from which place he proposed to sail immediately to meet his wife and children in Brooklyn, who have mourned for him as dead for several months.

TOLEDO.

National Association of Millers.

TOLEDO, June 18.—The Millers' Convention elected as officers for the ensuing year Jacob Barns, of Michigan, President, with a Vice President from each State, and E. B. Morrell, of Michigan, Secretary and Treasurer. The report of the Committee on Constitution, after discussion and amendment, was adopted. The Standing Committee presented a lengthy report upon the objects and benefits of a Millers' National Association.

At the evening session a resolution was presented declaring it important that each State form a State Millers' Association for the purpose of regulating the manufacture of flour, and giving to this Association the benefit of their influence and information for the general good of the whole, and request each Vice President to call a meeting of millers in his State, to perfect such organization. After considerable discussion the resolution was laid on the table.

Messrs. Hayes, of Michigan, and White, of Ohio, addressed the meeting, urging the importance of earnest effort looking to the permanent success of the National Association, and the Convention adjourned to meet in Chicago on the second Wednesday in January, 1874.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Article on Declaration of Rights Passed Second Reading—Amendment to the Libel Law—Legislature Under Discussion.

THE LIBEL LAW.

The Article on Declaration of Rights was resumed on Tuesday afternoon on second reading, the question being upon the amendment of Messrs. Dallas and Hay to the section relating to the freedom of the press. The discussion was conducted mainly upon Mr. Dallas' amendment, which was supported by Messrs. Dodd, Biddle, Woodward, H. G. Smith, Dallas and Broomall, and was opposed by Messrs. Corbett, Gibson, and MacVeagh. Modifications of the amendments were offered and advocated by Messrs. Cochran, Landis, H. W. Palmer, Hay, Newlin, Broomall, and W. H. Smith. The amendment, after being somewhat modified to meet various objections, was rejected by ayes 32, nays 71.

Mr. Broomall subsequently renewed his amendment, with a modification limiting it to criminal prosecutions. In this form it was agreed to, by ayes 53, noes 48. The section as amended was passed.

It provides, after declaring the freedom of the press, etc., as follows: "No conviction shall be had on any prosecution for the publication of papers relating to the official conduct of officers or men in a public capacity, or to any other matter proper for public investigation or information where the fact that such publication was not maliciously or negligently made, shall be established to the satisfaction of the jury, and in all indictments for libels the jury shall have the right to determine the law and the facts under the direction of the Court, as in other cases."

The remaining sections were passed without material amendment, as heretofore published.

Mr. John Price Wetherill, of Philadelphia, moved to strike out the last sentence, and no county or city shall be entitled to more than one-sixth of the whole number of members.

A vote was taken on Mr. Wetherill's motion, and it was lost—ayes, 49; nays, 64.

MISS ELIZABETH STUART PHELPS refers, in print, to Miss Smiley, the Quaker preacher, as "a woman who has a voice as sweet as a robin's, a face as serene as a Madonna's, a courage as resolute as an apostle's, and a purpose as fixed as a Quaker's, and who wears her bonnet into the pulpit beside."

MR. VANDERBILT proposes to award $2,000,000 of his New York Central thirty years' mortgage, under sealed proposals, on July 2. The bonds are in dollars, bearing 7 per cent. currency interest. The bonds recently negotiated in London by Mr. Banker bear 6 per cent. gold interest. The whole mortgage, it will be remembered, is for $40,000,000, of which $15,000,000 is reserved to take up the old outstanding obligations of the Central and Hudson roads, not yet matured.

A STAID citizen of Indianapolis, while recently on a business visit to New York, was asked to escort a charming young widow to her home in Western New York. He complied, of course; but when, on reaching the place of her residence, all her friends began congratulating her and him on what they supposed to be her new alliance, it became aggravating and embarrassing, and he was compelled to explain that he had a wife at home, to whom he had been married for sixteen years.

SENATOR TIPTON, of Nebraska, during the present planting season, has set out on his farm in Nemaha county, Neb., 1,000 apple trees, and also the following forest trees: 2,500 black walnut, 250 white walnut, 500 birch, 500 elm, 500 maple, 500 ash, 5,000 cottonwood—total 9,750 forest trees. He is now planting 2½ miles of hedge, has 50 acres of wheat, 20 of oats, and 15 of corn, and proposes breaking 50 acres of sod this season. And a very commendable feature of this very commendable improvement consists in the fact that all this work was performed by himself with the aid of another man.

BUTLER COUNTY OIL NEWS.

A 23,000 BARREL tank is being built in the valley above the town.

THE Lyon well, on the McClelland farm, struck oil last Wednesday and is doing about 300 barrels.

THE Thorn well, about half a mile east of Buena Vista, is doing about 100 barrels and over per day.

THE Troutman well still holds its tremendous production. The territory in that vicinity is covered with derricks.

THE Book, Timblin, old Morrison, and Craig wells, at Greece City, are doing about 150 barrels each, and the McPherson well about 80.

THE Ziegler well, at which the two men were burned to death, is a 200 barrel well. It is owned by Zieglers, Frank Anderson and others.

TWO wells struck on Friday night, one owned by Lambing, on the David Barnhart farm, is good for 200 barrels; the other is on the widow Nolan farm and is said to be good for 400 barrels.

WE LEARN that a strike was had on Friday evening last at what is known as the Humes well, on the Kittanning road, about seven miles east of Butler. At the depth of about 1,500 feet, and when but a few inches in the sand, the oil began to flow and the well filled up some 1,200 feet. It has made quite an excitement in that section and will open up another good field for operations in this county.—Butler Citizen.

The Pope's Will.

The Unita Nazionale gives some details of a will which, it says, has been made by the Pope, whose private fortune, without being considerable, comprises furniture of great value, and a rich collection of works of art. According to that journal, His Holiness has left the whole to Count Luigi Mastai Ferretti, his brother's eldest son, who married not long since a Princess of the Drago family. There are special legacies for persons who have remained attached to the testator, and for other more distant relatives. The nephew, who received 80,000 crowns on his marriage, may now inherit perhaps a million of francs.

Head Gear in all Styles.

No man can be said to be well dressed who has not a good, well fitting and becoming hat; no excellence in any other department of the dress will make up for a deficiency in this. But while this may be recognized as a general fact, it only increases the difficulty in making a selection, and a man to make a good choice must have a large assortment before him. This is why many have not yet secured their summer hats, but they need wait no longer since Messrs. McCord & Co., No. 131 Wood street, have opened up their new stock of goods for the season. There is nothing in the line of hats that is not represented in this stock, which consists in part of silk hats, cork hats, fine felt hats, complete assortment of boys' and childrens' hats. Also, new and elegant styles straw hats for gents, boys and children. An endless array, almost bewildering, in its variety and beauty. It may be said with out the slightest exaggeration that such a fine stock has never been opened in Pittsburgh—a statement that will be verified by all who will just drop into the store at 131 Wood street and take even a cursory view of the assortment.

Messrs. McCord & Co. respectfully ask retail purchasers or country buyers and others to take a look at their store, and after an examination of their goods and prices, go elsewhere if they can do better.

ARGUMENTS ON ASSESSMENTS.

The Case of Chadwick vs. the City of Pittsburgh—Argument on the Motion for a Preliminary Injunction—Speeches of Messrs. Schroyer, Watson, Marshall, Shiras and Burgwin—The Case Submitted to the Court.

Yesterday morning in the Court of Common Pleas, Judge Stowe and Sterrett on the bench, the argument on the application of Samuel Chadwick for a preliminary injunction restraining City Treasurer Magee from collecting taxes under the eqalized assessment, was heard. Mr. Burgwin on behalf of complainant presented an additional affidavit from Thos. D. Patterson, a clerk in the County Treasurers office testifying that he believed the tax lists of the thirty-six wards could be prepared and completed in one week's time. This was offered to rebut the testimony of respondents to the effect that it would require six months time to prepare new lists if the equalization assessments were set aside.

Before the argument was commenced, Mr. F. M. Magee submitted a supplementary affidavit from City Solicitor Phelps, replying to the charges made in the affidavits presented on behalf of the complainant. He answers that he believes Mr. Chadwick's land is underlaid with coal and that he is deriving considerable income from the mining of the same; that the statements about certain assessments are garbled, and for the purpose of deceiving the Court, and gives the assessment on the Opera House and lot, from which it appeared Mr. Chadwick's figures for the building were correct; that affiant believes the assessment to be as high as the buildings are worth and more than the owners value them at; affiant made no changes in the assessment of Mr. Fulton's property, but merely replaced an acre which was stricken out from Mr. Fulton's property, by Mr. Fulton; that Mr. Fulton returned that he had spent nine days in going over the ward, while according to the affidavit presented by Mr. Burgwin yesterday, he had been employed 5¼ days only; that he did not assess any one in the Twenty-third ward for opposing equalization, or because they were rich, and that he did not use the language attributed to him by Mr. Alexander; that affiant is acquainted with Mr. Brown's property, Twenty-third ward and is of opinion that the property and improvements are considerably below their value; that the error in Mr. Remer's property could have been corrected at any time on application to the Revision office; that Remer's property was not changed, as reported by him; that the Board had no authority to change the description of the property, the ordinance compelling them to affix the values to property as described for county purposes; that the total assessments for the Twenty-first ward were adopted by the Board of Revision as affixed by the Assessor.

ARGUMENT OF MR. SCHROYER.

About a quarter before ten o'clock Mr. Schroyer began his argument on behalf of the plaintiff. He contended the Board of Revision was illegally organized and had delegated its power to the City Assessor without authority. The Legislature had vested in Councils the power to select the Board of Revision, and without performing that duty they had submitted the question to the turmoil of a ward election, and that a Board, that should have been composed of intelligent men was composed of incompetent men. There was no time fixed for this equalization in the Act of Assembly, but the ordinance fixes the election for January, and a subsequent act required that the assessment should be completed by June, 1873, and placed in the hands of the Treasurer, entirely beyond the jurisdiction of Council, the City Treasurer's duties being prescribed by law. This he contended was sufficient to set aside the equalization as fixed upon by the Board of Revision. He also said the Assessor answered that the Court would have jurisdiction in case the plaintiff could show that the work of the Board had been performed fraudulently. If the plaintiff could not show this then there was nothing upon which to rest their cause. He then referred to the duties of the Assessor, and said that he was required to ascertain from the best information available the actual cash value of the property to be assessed. The Assessor never left his office for that purpose, and where returns were not made, he had failed to perform his duty in not so doing. He also contended that the Assessor had no right to make any changes or assessments, without an examination of the property, and that neither Councils nor the Board of Revision had the right to vest him with this authority. The Assessor acknowledged he had made changes in some cases, and this he contended should be sufficient to set aside the assessment. He also argued that the Board of Appeals did not give the relief needed, inasmuch as the ordinance did not give the opportunity to show that another citizen had been assessed too low, but merely allowed reductions to be made when the citizen was able to show that his assessment was too high.

Mr. Schroyer was followed by Mr. D. T. Watson, who addressed the Court on behalf of the defendant. His argument embraced four points. First. That the plaintiff did not show cause for relief. Second. That he did not allege that he would be injured by the operations of the Equalization measure. Third. That the plaintiff should have applied to Councils for relief. Fourth. That the Court had no control over the actions of municipal corporations.

MR. MARSHALL'S ARGUMENT.

Mr. F. M. Marshall followed in a speech on behalf of the plaintiff. He argued principally on the point that the Court sitting as a Court of Equity, had authority to enjoin municipal corporations, and cited numerous authorities to sustain him in the position assumed. He also contended that the Board was illegal, and that therefore the assessments based on the valuations fixed by them could not be legally collected.

Mr. Marshall held the following:

First—That the jurisdiction of the Court was well defined.

Second—That the Board was not clothed with power to make the assessments—having no legal existence.

Third—That the Board never gave the question that discretion and consideration which they were bound to do.

Fourth, That abuses so palpable have arisen as to amount to fraud, and that a Court of law and equity is bound to grant a preliminary injunction.

Fifth. Because the multiplicity of actions which might be instituted by aggrieved citizens could never be tried. Hence relief could only be granted by the injunction.

SPEECH OF GEO. SHIRAS.

Mr. Shiras for the respondents held that the Court could not interfere with the tax making power of a county or municipality. Even in the case of an illegal assessment the remedy does not lie in a Court of equity, but in an appeal to the power having jurisdiction over the levying of taxes. He held that if the Board of Revision was acting without authority that it could be met by an injunction, but if it was merely the manner of performing the work alone no Court could interfere. He also held that it was perfectly legitimate for the people to select the Revisors and that when Councils accepted them as a Board, and recognized them as such, they ratified that election. Mr. Shiras submitted the following points.

First—That their affidavits denied that the Assessor made any changes or alterations except those approved by the Board.

Second—That the ordinance of 1869, and act of Assembly of 1869, vest the City Assessor with authority to fix the valuations where returns are not made.

Third—That the act of 1873 provides when the work of revision should be completed.

For these reasons, and because on the very face of the bill there were no grounds for a preliminary injunction, he hoped the Court would not enjoin the respondents.

MR. BURGWIN.

Mr. Burgwin, on behalf of Mr. Chadwick, said that the authority to assess the business tax was vested in the assessor, but that there is no provision in any act of Assembly giving him power to assess the valuation on property. The alleged unconstitutionality of the curative act was referred to, and the point made that it was the plainest case yet brought before the Court. That act was a supplement to the equalization ordinance, yet it was entitled "an act for the speedy and safe collection of the taxes," an entirely different matter from equalization. The body of the act was injected after the act was sent to Harrisburgh, and the people knew nothing about its contents, as its title only was given.

At this point Mr. Shiras asked what would be the effect of the granting of a preliminary injunction.

Judge Sterrett replied that it would be necessary to take up the county duplicate and make out a new list.

Mr. Shiras said that the city is now acting under the act of 1873; but Mr. Burgwin contended that the ordinance was invalid, that it was not intended that the equalization act should go into effect until the next triennial assessment is made. The organization of the Board and making of new valuations at this time is null and void, and he would speak of this branch of the case at the proper time. Mr. Burgwin also claimed that the valuations on ward property and upon which it was intended to collect taxes were null and void. He also said Mr. Chadwick did not appear before the Court as an individual, for in that capacity his remedy would be to pay the tax, under protest, and to seek to recover it afterwards. But Mr. Chadwick, as the Court suggested, stood before the Court in the capacity of a member of the public, whose interests would suffer largely by the enforcement of the ordinance, and contended that the bill came within the purview and jurisdiction of a Court of equity.

Mr. Burgwin's speech concluded the arguments and when he was done the case was submitted to the Court.

Kicked by a Horse.

Yesterday afternoon Elijah Boles, while intoxicated, and driving through Main street, Allegheny, in a buggy, got stalled in a mud hole. He jumped out of the buggy and commenced to beat the animal, when it retaliated, by kicking him in the stomach, inflicting upon him very serious internal injuries, and rendering him insensible. He was picked up and carried to his residence on Saw Mill alley, where he was properly cared for. It is thought he will recover.

The Jubilee.

Our colored citizens are making extensive preparations for their Jubilee, which comes off next Wednesday. They have orators engaged, the procession arranged for, and a public mass meeting at Friendship Grove mapped out. The day promises to be one that will be generally observed.

MURDER OF AN OLD MAN.

A Horrible Tragedy in West Wheeling, West Virginia.

On Tuesday afternoon the citizens of West Wheeling were thrown into a state of terrible excitement over the report that a cold-blooded murder had been committed at the ferry landing. It appears that a butcher, named Gotlieb Paul, and his son, had gone to the ferry, where they met two men, named James McGary and William Emory. Shortly after their meeting a quarrel arose between them, it is said altogether provoked by McGary, who commenced to abuse the elder Paul, who is a very old man. The son not wishing to see his father abused took his part. A short time after blows were struck, and the Pauls' tried to get out of the ruffians way, but the two had attacked his father and he went to take his part. At this Emory turned upon the boy and beat him, when the old man ran away, McGary following him and hurling a huge stone at him, struck him on the back of the head knocking him on his face to the ground. He then approached him and picked up the stone and dealt him the second blow, killing him. Shortly after the murder an inquest was held but nothing new was developed. The accused was arrested and lodged in jail.

THE LUTHERAN SYNOD.

Continuation of the Proceedings.

The only business of special public interest transacted by this body since our last report is herewith noted.

The report from the Publication Society complained of a lack of proper encouragement. The Society in the last two years has published twenty-eight books; its net assets are $37,204.83; three agents are out canvassing, and five colporteurs are at work.

The document was referred to a committee of six, with instructions to report to this body as soon as possible. The chairman announced Revs. R. A Fink, J. H. Heck, M. Sheeleigh and Messrs. E. G. Smyser, C. Yeager and D. A. Buehler, Esq. This committee subsequently reported in favor of borrowing $20,000 for the Society, which was adopted.

The Committee on Papal Baptism reported that the Lutheran Church had never denied it; did not sanction the repetition of sacraments and had left the matter with the respective parties. Report adopted.

The propriety of establishing a Synod in India was discussed, but not viewed favorably and the missionaries there were instructed only to ordain ministers whenever they presented themselves for the work.

AN IRATE FATHER.

An Unpleasant Affair in a Small Town.

The chief clerk of the Round House of the B. & O. R. R. at Concord, Ohio, named Thomas Smith seems to have got into a little unpleasant position with the daughter of a Dr. Lewis of that place, with whom as is alleged by the Doctor he tried to elope, but which Mr. Smith denies. However the fact is that Mr. Smith was caught in a rather suspicious position, trying late at night to get into the American House of that place, when the irate father caught him and put a bullet through one of his lungs, and also administered to him a terrible beating over the head with the butt end of the revolver, a Colt's navy. Smith is a married man, and has a wife and family, who are now nursing him at the American House, where he is receiving medical attendance. The bullet has not yet been extracted, and is supposed to have gone downward under the shoulder blade.

Another Good Article.

Messrs. Laing & McKallip have long enjoyed a monopoly of the cement trade in Pittsburgh because they have presented the very best articles in that line that have ever been brought to this market, and have always been ready for opportunities to secure anything new and good. They have heretofore had the exclusive agency for the celebrated Rosendale cement, of New York, and the Louisville cement, of Louisville, Ky., and recently they have added to their stock the widely known Phoenix Hydraulic Cement, of Uniontown, Pa. This cement has been before the public for years and has by trial and use, proved its merits in every case. It is an article that has gained a fame not through puffing, but merit alone, and the fact that Messr. Laing & McKallip have it on sale and have taken the exclusive agency for it here, is the best evidence of its character.

This firm is now prepared to promptly fill all orders for any of these cements at manufacturer's prices, and will guarantee satisfaction always. Their headquarters are still at Nos. 347, 411 and 413 Liberty street, and all orders left there will receive prompt attention. Dealers in cement should remember them.

A Pestilental Puddle.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

Perhaps it is too much to ask those who have charge of the Sanitary affairs of the city, to go over the whole ground, but if they would only attend to "spots," they would receive the everlasting gratitude of the taxpayers who never forget to furnish the funds to pay their salaries. One pestilental hole in particular on Forbes street between Miltenberger and Gist streets, which is filled with stagnant water and is a foul stench to the whole neighborhood, and is endangering the health of the people. If the Sanitary folks will permit us to make a suggestion, we would suggest the propriety of some speedy action to remove this nuisance, or redress will have to be obtained some other way.

MANY CITIZENS.

Purity and Reliability.

Our city friends are indeed fortunate in having in their midst such a reliable establishment for the sale of pure liquors as that of Messrs. Dillinger and Stevenson, No. 57 Second avenue. They have had an experience ranging through a long series of years; their judgment in selecting is excellent, while their facilities are of the most extensive character. At their establishment will be found the very finest brands of imported and domestic liquors, whiskies, gins, brandies, &c.—all grades of German and native wines. That these gentlemen deal strictly in standard brands is too well known to require proof, and their present stock is fully in keeping with, and even ahead of, their previous reputation in this respect. Heads of families and those of the general public who may desire pure liquors for medicinal purposes will find the stock of Messrs. Dillinger & Stevenson all we have represented. We commend this house to the favorable notice of our readers.

Remember the place, No. 57 Second avenue.

To Workingmen and Mechanics.

Within the last month there have been Auction Sales of "Suburban Lots" in nearly every little village and hamlet in Allegheny county. Many persons have been induced by lunches, music, &c., to buy a lot for a homestead so far away from the business portion of the city, which in many instances will become a source of neglect and loss to their business, and eventually a downright loss of hard earned money.

On Next Monday, June 23d,

Commencing at 9 o'clock A. M., there will be offered at

PUBLIC SALE,

An entirely different character of Property, known as the

THURSDAY, JUNE 19, 1873.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 116.

WE acknowledge the receipt from the State Department of Washington of volumes one, two, three and four of the "Papers Relating to the Treaty of Washington" which have just come from the hands of the printer.

"EVERY CLOUD has its silver lining," and what matters it then if the fair Anthony be ruthlessly catechised by an obtrusive Court for attempting to exercise the right of suffrage, so long as there is reason for rejoicing in the accession of a new and distinguished proselyte to the cause—the gifted author of Lothair—who has just testified to his faith by declaring boldly that the woman who pays taxes ought to be allowed to vote.

LITTLE DELAWARE, despite her bad record in maintaining the semi-barbarous relic of flogging her prisoners, at least makes an effort to redeem herself in the good opinions of the outside world. While other celebrated peach-growing sections promise to fall short during the coming season, Delaware sends out word that she will produce an increase of the delicious fruit. So that New Jersey and Delaware keep us supplied with luscious peaches, their other short-comings may well be forgiven and forgotten.

SOME people are beginning to think that England is rather too demonstratively enthusiastic over the visit of a gentleman from Persia, who set aside twenty-five millions for pocket money for his trip, when his subjects were dying from starvation by thousands, and when his land was afflicted with one of the most terrible famines of ancient or modern times. The wails of the dying have hardly been hushed before the Imperial pleasure-seeker starts out on his jaunt, and people who have had a reputation for common sense are going almost crazy to do him honor.

BRAZIL has felt the impulses of the age, and under its influence is developing rapidly. It is a fruitful land that only needs the touch of modern enterprise to prove of value not only to its own people but to the rest of the world. And it seems that the age of improvement has reached it; general attention has been turned to railway enterprises, to telegraphic lines, to reforms in the political status of affairs, to the finances, and to popular education and the country is now flourishing with an unprecedented prosperity and has commenced a steady growth that is full of promise for the future.

MATTERS in Utah are in an unpleasant condition, and the people are looking to Congress for relief. They want juries, but under present circumstances cannot have them. The Supreme Court of the United States decided that only a Territorial Marshal could summon juries, and in accordance with the laws of the Territory. The Territorial Legislature accordingly elected a Marshal and then adjourned, and now the Courts have declared the act, under which the election was held, unconstitutional. Thus Utah is suffering from a practical suspension of law and must remain so until Congress arranges the difficulty.

A FLORID correspondent of the Philadelphia Press has been "doing up" a few cities of the West, and has been impressed with the idea that Pittsburgh, though in a monetary view, equal to any city of its size in the world, yet makes one turn from it with a sensation of gloom "to feel that the pathway of life in it has nothing to show but dust and ashes." A man who looks down the chimney at the happy family below, while blinded by the smoke from the cheering fire, is not apt to see much that would be attractive and delightful if he had entered by the doorway and made one of the group. And we suspect that is what troubled our visitor.

THE Commission for the improvement of the Ohio river commenced another session in our city yesterday, the attendance having been larger than had been anticipated. The discussions, although somewhat preliminary to the regular business of the Commission, indicated an earnest feeling in the matter on the part of the members, and a full appreciation of the great value of the proposed improvement. The report of the Executive Committee gives additional stimulus to the hope that the matter has at last reached a stage wherein it will be properly understood by Congress and the proper attention accordingly given it. The details of yesterday's meeting, as found in our local columns, will be read with gratification, by every one who feels an interest in the improvement of the Ohio and the prosperity of Pittsburgh.

THE Constitutional Convention at last has approached something like fairness in regard to the libel law, and the new section adopted will meet with general favor among the newspaper fraternity. It simply allows the publication of matter proper for public investigation or information, when such publication is not through malice or negligence. In other words, facts, if told without sensationalism, and for a purpose, not of abuse, but as a matter proper for the public to know, will not make the publisher liable to conviction in a prosecution—the determination of the bearing of the law and the facts being left with the jury under the direction of the Court. This is a just concession to the Press, and under it no innocent party, through malice or any other cause, can be injured, while the Press is guaranteed some proper freedom.

"WHY don't you blow him up," indignantly inquired a member of that Constitutional Convention, which for the past few days has been discussing the beauties and "safeguards" of the Pennsylvania Libel law. "He's a rascal and the community ought to know it." "Softly, my friend," responded the calm tempered scribe, "give us a fair libel law and we'll right these wrongs." And then the irate Constitutionalist was referred to the last Judicial discussion, wherein the Presiding Judge of the Supreme Court of Wisconsin ruled in a libel suit, that although the editor offered to print any statement from the aggrieved party and to retract any charges that were unjust, such retraction in no way lessened the original libel; and the journalist paid over $1,100 fine. The Wisconsin and Pennsylvania libel laws are similar, and yet they are called "just."

THE New York Commercial Advertiser says the suggestion that Christian nations should unite in restoring, as far as practicable, the city of Jerusalem, has an importance which concerns architecture, science, and history beyond all the other questions and enterprises that interest, or have interested, the civilized world. It is an object eminently worthy of individual attention, but claims also the consideration of all enlightened Governments. It should, indeed, be inaugurated by Governments. We should be gratified to see that of our own country taking the lead in developing all there is left of the grandeur and glories of Jerusalem. Such a movement, unlike that of the ancient Crusaders, would be both practical and feasible. The localities around Jerusalem, hallowed by the presence and footsteps of the Saviour, should not only be accurately identified, but, as far as possible, rendered attractive.

QUITE a number of historical blunders have recently been exposed, the latest being that of Washington's ancestry. Every schoolboy has read that our Washington was a descendant (through his ancestor John Washington) of Lawrence Washington, of Sulgrave, England. A pedigree on this basis was made out in the old country, and was generally accepted in this, though we believe General Washington himself was always quite cautious about giving his assent to it. It is now shown conclusively that the John Washington who emigrated to Virginia was not the John Washington who was the son of Lawrence Washington of Sulgrave. This last John Washington was knighted in England, became Sir John Washington, married twice in England, did not emigrate, and lived and died in England. All this is made manifest through an investigation by Col. Lemuel Chester, an American genealogist. Of course it makes but little difference who were Washington's ancestors, except as to historical accuracy.

THE PARTY FIRST.

Some time since, we made some statements relative to the importance of superior nominations, at our coming State Convention, if we would succeed in electing our ticket. We have not singled out individuals, either for commendation or condemnation, preferring not to seem to dictate to the Convention, so far as specific names are concerned. There is yet time enough for an entire change of front, as regards talked-of candidates. What is needed, is thorough discussion of party needs, and then of honest action on the part of the Convention in the light of those necessities. It may be, that men will be suggested at the last, whose names were not before mentioned, who will be deemed the most fitting candidates for the State offices that can possibly be selected. If delegates are of the right type, and are left free to take such action as shall seem best, all things considered, there is no good reason why we shall not have candidates of decided merit and ability, and such as will represent the better sentiment of the party.

We have insisted, and do insist, that the Republican party is superior to men; that the first consideration should be its honor and future welfare. This recognized, and naturally, the fittest representatives of its principles and character will be sought after. This is the more important, just now, because of the fact that no general declaration of party principles can well be made. A few subjects, specific in their nature, may be embodied in a platform, prominent among which, will be the condemnation of back-pay salary grabbers,—but these aside, and the most to be done will be the re-affirmation of the doctrines enunciated last year. This is the year in which we must illustrate our principles, by selecting good men to give them effect. To fail in this, is to be vitally weak; to succeed, will be to give strength and power to the party. Hence, the purity and honesty of Republicanism in this State, this year, will be interpreted, less by what is said by the State Convention, than what is done. A fine platform, with high-sounding, patriotic phrases, and corrupt nominations, will be a mockery and a delusion, and the people will resent the trifling that will thus be practiced. But pure and good nominations, even without a platform, will command popular confidence and support.

In previous years, there has been a more or less embittered fight, in advance of the meeting of the nominating Convention, over particular individuals, or the claims of rival sections. We are gratified that this is not the case this year. The GAZETTE, in opening the pending discussion, put the whole issue on high party grounds. It claimed that it was not a question of individuals, or of sections, but of party purity and honor. This is the shape we desire the issue to maintain. The idea of local claims, at such times as the present, is a fallacious one. To us it is a matter of small importance where the best man for either of the State offices to be filled happens to live; if he is found at the East, West, North or South, let us have him nominated. This spirit very generally animates the press of the State in the pending discussion. Says the Reading Times and Dispatch:

> This is the off-year in politics, and parties during these years cannot, it is well known, be swayed either by the clamorous appeals of noisy politicians, or the double-leaded editorials of newspapers run in the interest of cliques or interested individuals who seek only their own political advancement. During contests involving the success of national issues, political parties are more easily led. Then, party lines are more strictly drawn. The love of office has its allurements and consequently the prospect of enjoying patronage has also its influence in determining the particular direction of the ballot in an element sufficiently large to carry the balance of power.
> This is not so, however, in an election like the forthcoming one, where there is very little patronage to bestow, and where the interest in the success of the ticket is considerably diminished because there are no vital issues involved, and because of the general apathy which is always known to prevail in similar contests. It becomes all the more necessary, therefore, that the Republican State Convention which meets in August, shall place in nomination none but the best men—candidates who are above suspicion and who are entirely free from the entangling alliances of rings or cliques. This, as already said, seems to be the prevailing sentiment of the voters of Pennsylvania, whose wishes it would be disastrous to set aside in the Convention.

Many other quotations might be made, of similar tenor. We submit that what is asked is reasonable and right. And if the people are gratified in their just demands, we will have, next October, as large a relative majority as we had, after the terrible struggle, of last year. The people will be delighted to honor the party, if it will commend itself, in all particulars, to their favorable regard.

It may seem a strange thing to say, but the Republican party has a strong claim on the honor of its leaders. It made many of them—in the sense of honor and prominence. Its pure principles and noble aim, commanded, from the very outset, the admiration and love of the pure. When Fremont was nominated in 1856, on a distinctively Republican platform, it was with pride and enthusiasm, that hundreds of thousands of the best men of the country rallied to his support. They knew they would be defeated. But their purest political convictions were embodied in the sentiments of the platform, and Fremont was an ideal hero, and and thus they were proud to toil on, in the face of coming defeat, when all their convictions of right were gratified. Gentlemen managers—there is latent in the hearts of the people, the same romantic love of Republicanism now as then. For years, the best element in the party, in this State, have been made to feel, that in some particular, their highest aspirations were not realized. Gratify them once and see what a noble triumph they will give.

Surprising Resuscitation.

A remarkable case of resuscitation has just taken place at the hospital of the Val-de-Grace, at Paris. A man had hanged himself in a garret in the Rue Saint Jacques, and, having been cut down and examined by the medical men, was pronounced to be dead. The clinical lecturer, however, desired to try one last experiment, and he opened the chest and attempted artificial respiration, but without success. He then applied the pole of an electrical battery to the pneumo-gastric nerves, and passed a strong current at intervals of four seconds. Soon after some signs of respiration appeared, and in five minutes the cardiac pulsation was perceptible. The epiglottis was tumified, and the tongue had to be drawn out with pincers to leave a passage for the air. A few ounces of blood were obtained from the medio-cephalic vein, the dilated pupils contracted, the sign of life became more and more manifest, a few drops of alcohol were administered, some slight muscular contractions became visible without the aid of electricity, warmth returned to the feet, the pulsation in the carotid arteries recommenced, and the patient was saved.

IN the suit of Josephine Kimball vs. Jacob Stever, of the Massillon (Ohio) Furnace Company, to recover $20,000 damage for a breach of marriage contract, the jury rendered a verdict giving the plaintiff $7,000.

DAVID MOOAS, brewer, an old resident of Wheeling, shot himself through the right temple last Tuesday night, and died on Wednesday morning. The cause of the deed was his inability to collect money due him.

AN altercation between several men in a beer saloon at Cape Girardeau, Missouri, on Sunday, resulted in the fatal stabbing of Mr. Frank, keeper of the saloon, and the serious cutting of Mr. Vastine, by a man named Gallagher.

A WASHINGTON reporter having been struck with the familiar gait of two zebras exhibited by a travelling menagerie there last week, made friends with their keeper, and extorted from him a confession that they were only painted mules.

BEFORE adjourning the business session on Wednesday, the Press Association of Michigan passed a resolution requiring new advertising agencies to send cash with orders, and fixing a discount to all advertising agencies of 20 per cent., commencing the first proximo.

THE price of a license to sell liquor was recently raised by the Common Council of Waukegan to $600. Their action has been vetoed by the Mayor, who holds that if liquor selling is a legitimate business it ought to be accessible to the poor men as well as to the rich.

LOVERS of claret and Burgundy will be pleased to learn on the authority of an eminent French chemist, that red wines nowadays are commonly colored with rosantline, which contains arsenic enough to cause symptoms of poisoning if it will be taken in frequent doses.

A CATHOLIC priest in Chicago, in consecrating a church full of young women to a service of the Holy Virgin last week, told them not to paint their cheeks, as it was an evidence of lack of brains, and not read weekly story papers, as they would fill what brains they had with nonsense.

THE recent examination of the condition of the North Missouri Insurance Commission, at Macon, Mo., disclosed the fact that the capital of the company is impaired over sixty per cent. The State Superintendent of Insurance has given the company sixty days from June 2d to make the impairment good.

A. D. WHEELOCK, a physician of Albany, N. Y., for some time past has been paying attention to Miss Ruth Smith, at St. Johnsville. Her parents objected to the suit on the ground that Wheelock was a married man. On Tuesday proceedings for divorce were commenced, on hearing which Miss Smith took poison and died. When Wheelock heard of her death he also poisoned himself.

AN act of Congress to prevent cruelty to animals by railroads, will take effect October 1. From and after that date all railroad companies are prohibited from keeping animals in continuous confinement for more than twenty-eight hours, without unloading for five hours, and properly feeding and watering. If they are supplied on the cars with food and water, this provision does not apply. A fine not to exceed $500 is affixed for violation of the law.

A FATHER of fifty children is vouched for by one of the most trustworthy and respected citizens of Waco, Texas, in a letter to the Advance, of that place, which says that by his first wife he had thirteen children; by his second, eighteen; by his third, ten; by his fourth, six; and by his fifth and surviving wife, three; and that thirty-five of this numerous progeny are still alive—eight having been lost in the rebel army, and seven having died natural deaths.

AT a very swell wedding reception, lately, the high toned belles held their arms like trussed fowls, to prevent the silk and lace suspenders that did duty as dress waists, from falling off their shoulders. The same bridal party were, to the number of a dozen, photographed, and if I were to send a copy up to Connecticut, I'd not only be prayed for in the church as one lost, but I'd be liable to indictment for sending indecent pictures by mail.—New York Correspondence of the Missouri Republican.

A PROMINENT business man in Springfield, Mass., wants to know who "Matilda" is? She sent him a postal card, on Saturday, saying she was out of money, and unless $5 was forthcoming immediately, she should go round and see his wife. Another man is cross, because somebody in Boston sent him an invitation to address a Sunday school, and, also, to pay $12 72 for drinks, all on the same card. It's getting to be unpleasant to look a postoffice clerk in the face.

A FARMER and his wife called at a Detroit photograph gallery last week to order some photographs of her, and while the operator was getting ready the husband gave his wife a little advice as to how she must act: "Fasten your mind on something," he said, "or else you will laugh and spile the job. Think about early days, how your father got in jail, and your mother was an old scolder, and what you'd been if I hadn't pitied you." She didn't have any photographs taken. Neither will he for some time.

A MEMBER of the French Academy of Sciences is tracing the connection between the amount of ozone in the atmosphere and the public health, finds that, in Paris, the maximum amount is when the wind, in changing from South to North, is at the West, and the minimum when at the East. The outbreak and duration of epidemics has been shown to be coincident with periods of East winds, while their subsidence quickly followed a change of wind to the West. This accords with observations in this country, made during the cholera epidemic of 1866.

THE Mayor's duties are arduous and varied. Yesterday a social case came before him, and he quickly solved it in a manner that ought to be satisfactory to husbands, if not to wives. A worthy citizen had started on a trip to Canada, in company with a young lady who was his housekeeper. The wife thereupon had the twain arrested and brought before his Honor. After listening to both sides, the decision was given that if the two desired to take a rural trip, there was nothing in the world to prevent them. Thereupon the released ones were wafted away in a hack, and the sorrowing wife returned to her lonely home in a Third avenue car. And the Mayor last night slept the sleep of innocence.—N. Y. Daily Graphic.

ACCORDING to the London Daily Telegraph the statistics of the Roman Catholic Church in England show an archbishop and twelve bishops; thirteen cathedral chapters, consisting each of a provost and ten canons; thirteen dioceses, with 1,621 clergy and 1,016 churches and chapels; six greater colleges, ten lesser colleges, two hundred schools for the middle class and the poor in London, and 800 in the rest of England; ten convents for the contemplative life. The number of Catholics in England and Wales is set at about 1,500,000, and in Scotland at between 400,000 and 500,000. In Ireland the hierarchy consists of four archbishops—two of them primates—and twenty-four bishops. There are twenty-eight dioceses, with 1,080 parishes and 3,440 priests; 2,349 public churches and chapels, one university, twenty-five colleges, and about 7,000 primary schools. According to the census of 1871 there were 4,141,933 Catholics in that country.

POLITICAL NOTES.

THE report is current in Virginia that Alexander Rives, of the United States Court, is likely to succeed Chief Justice Chase.

A COLORED man named Love is out as a candidate for the Legislature in Henry county, Kentucky. The Eminence Constitutionalist learns that he is a ready, forcible speaker, and a man of excellent sense.

A BOSTON letter says the new secret and anti-liquor legislation party has extended its lodges all over Massachusetts, having nineteen branches and 9,000 active members in Boston alone, and controlling 50,000 votes through the State.

CANDIDATES are multiplying for the Conservative nomination for Governor of Virginia. Among those prominently mentioned are Colonel Robert E. Withers, ex-Gov. Smith, A. H. H. Stuart, R. M. T. Hunter, Judge Walter Staples and George Kemper.

THE debt of North Carolina now amounts to more than $31,000,000. The question of paying it has been repeatedly ignored by the State Legislature, and now a most summary way of disposing of it is suggested. Mr. W. A. Smith, Congressman elect from the Raleigh district, has published a letter favoring its absolute repudiation.

A WASHINGTON letter-writer observes that Attorney General Williams owes whatever he is politically and officially to his energetic and clever wife, who has no equal among her own sex and no superior among the other as a working, every-day politician. She knows better than half the veterans in Congress how to manage a delicate piece of legislation, and that is known by everybody in the lobby to be a complex affair.

PERSONAL.

W. H. JARRETT has sued Clara Louise Kellogg for services.

MARRIAGE agrees with Nilsson's voice. It is reported to have gained in "volume and richness." These are not M. Rouzaud's words, however. Liege lords, as a general thing, do not "enthuse" over a gain of this kind. When a wife's voice increases in resonance, the husband usually has an apartment fitted up for him in the cupola.

Now that the Cumberland Valley Railroad, extending from Harrisburg to Hagerstown, Maryland, has been passed into the hands of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, many of the friends of Samuel A. Black, Esq., so long connected with the latter great corporation, have suggested him as precisely the man for President of the Cumberland Valley Railroad under its new control.

MAJOR HENRY EWING, senior proprietor of the St. Louis Times, died in St. Louis on the 13th instant, aged thirty-one years. His wife and three children survive him. Major Ewing entered the Confederate service at the beginning of the war, and took an active part till its close. He bought an interest in the St. Louis Times in 1869, and his talent and energy contributed largely to its success. The deceased editor has left behind him the reputation of a man eminent for public and private virtue.

TIMOTHY HULBURT, long a prominent iron manufacturer in Winsted, Conn., cut his throat with a razor on Saturday night, and died Sunday morning. Depression of mind in consequence of ill health was the cause. He failed in business about twenty years ago, and paid forty cents on the dollar. About ten years ago he was successful again, and hunting up his old creditors paid them in full with interest, though not legally bound to do so. He leaves an estate of about $30,000; yet because of some losses and feeble health he had recently a constant dread of poverty.

A KENTUCKY paper has discovered another of those fearful family complications, and tells it thus: "John W. Daniels married the daughter of Mrs. Sarah R. Bravard; afterward B. S. Daniels, the father of John, married the old lady, and still later, James W. Daniels, the nephew of John, married a sister to John's wife. It is very easy to see that John is son and son-in-law of B. S. Daniels, and that James W. is grandson and son-in-law of the old man and brother-in-law and nephew of John, &c., and John now desires to know, through the columns of the local newspaper, what relation the children of these three sets of parents are to each other."

THE young Prince Frederick William, who was accidentally killed on the 29th of last month by falling from one of the palace windows, was buried on the 1st of June in the family mortuary chapel in the Rosenhohe, whither the coffin was conveyed by Princess Alice herself, in her own carriage. The funeral cortege consisted of the Grand Duke and other relatives of the dead child, the Count and Countess Erbach-Schonberg, the British Charge d'Affaires, Lady Francis Baillie, the Secretary of Legation, the Russian Minister, the Prussian Minister, Herr Von Kuchler, (aide-de-camp to the Grand Duke), and Miss Bower, formerly a governess in the royal family. The service was performed partly at the palace and partly at Rosenhohe by the court preacher, Dr. Simon.

MR. H. J. BYRON's play of "Old Soldiers" has passed its 100th night at the London Strand Theatre.

MR. CHAS. MATHEWS has reappeared, in London, at the Gaiety Theatre, where he has been acting in "The Liar."

To the Heads of Families.

You will observe that the few lines here are written on behalf of a medicine of great value, called DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE. There are thousands within our knowledge who have used it not only for Consumption, but for various other chronic diseases, with the most marked benefit, and in most cases resulting in a complete restoration to health. There is nothing at all strange about this. Dr. Keyser is a thoroughly educated physician; he has devoted the greatest part of his life to the study of lung diseases, and having cured himself, like a true philanthropist, goes to work to cure his fellow men. His cures are numerous, and may be found in every direction, both in and around the city of Pittsburgh.

The treatise which he has published is full of valuable matter to the sick and to the well; the former can read it as a guide to their restoration to health, whilst the latter can use it to prevent them from falling into incurable sickness. It can be had free by addressing him at his medical office, 167 Liberty street.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCIAL.

The general aspect in our monetary circles is unchanged. There being an ample supply of loanable funds in the banks for all practical purposes, borrowers in good standing find a comfortable and easy money market at the current rate of 9@10 ℔ cent. ℔ annum for first-class paper. Considerable attention is given to local securities, and the offerings are becoming large. Real estate matters continue brisk, and large sales are every day occurrences. Persons seeking real estate investments would do well to keep watch of the GAZETTE's advertising columns these days. Some important sales at auction are announced.

The Chicago money market is easy at the regular and current rate of 10 ℔ cent. ℔ annum, while call loans, with Governments, Gold and bank stocks as collateral, are made at 7@8 per cent. On the streets, brokers accommodate good customers at from 10@12 ℔ cent. ℔ annum. The principal applicants are grain men; still the mercantile community receive considerable assistance.

Business in Baltimore is fairly active and well distributed. Baltimore and Ohio railroad stocks sold at 175; Parkersburg Branch was in demand at 11, and Central Ohio common at 40. In bonds the business was not very extensive, but sales made were at very good prices: 1,000 Marietta and Cincinnati 2d at 91. Pittsburgh and Connellsville closed at 96 bid, 96½ asked; Baltimore and Ohio 1885s were wanted at 98⅜, 1880s at 97⅜, held at 98.

Rates of discount in Cincinnati are steady at 8@9 ℔ cent. In the open market there seems to be an increase rather than a reduction in the amount of money seeking investment in prime business paper, and negotiations are more readily effected at 8@9 ℔ cent., with 10 as an exceptional figure.

The tone of the St. Louis money market remains substantially unchanged, with money in good supply, rendering the market easy for first-class borrowers. Rates rule steady at 8 and 10 ℔ cent. ℔ annum.

The demand for money in Philadelphia is light, and not likely to improve for some time. Speculation is also at a stand, owing to the uncertainty which appears to surround investment values. We quote at 5@6 ℔ cent. on call, and 7@8 ℔ cent. for time loans with discounts. The banks are absorbing all paper offered by regular customers at usual rates. Stocks dull; prices weak; sales of new City Sixes at 100⅜, and Lehigh gold loan at 90⅜. Reading bank sold at 58@58⅜; Pennsylvania at 54⅜; Oil Creek and Allegheny at 29⅜; Lehigh Valley 61⅜, and United Companies of New Jersey at 123; 33⅜ was bid for Camden and Atlantic; 42 for Camden and Atlantic preferred, and 47 for Little Schuylkill. Pennsylvania Salt Mining Company at 60.

Rates remain as last quoted in Boston prime names passing at from 6½@7, with an occasional transaction in very choice as low as 6 per cent., while on less well-known grades the range is from 7@8. The bank exhibit was favorable, reflecting an increase in specie of nearly a million, and in legal tenders over a million, the total reserve thereby being augmented $2,071,800. The deposits were largely up, resulting in also increasing the liabilities of the banks to the extent of $3,663,900. The movement of the week resulted in a gain to the banks of $1,155,825, they now holding in lawful money, in excess of the 25 per cent. requirements, $11,971,150.

NEW YORK, June 18, 1873.

Money loaned at 3@4 per cent. most of the day, but advanced to 6 before the close. Sterling was quiet and steady; 109¼ for sixty days and 110@110½ for sight. Gold was dull all day at 115⅞@116, closing strong at 116. Most of the purchases were by foreign bankers, under a rumor of a heavy failure in Vienna, which on investigation proved an old affair. Loans 1@4 per cent. Clearings $80,000,000. Treasury disbursements $81,000. Customs receipts $301,000. Governments were dull and steady. State bonds were very quiet. Stocks opened steady, and after the early call advanced ⅛@⅜ per cent., Western Union selling as high as 85⅞. The market thereafter was steady until after one o'clock, when a heavy raid was made by the bears, free sales being made of Union Pacific down to 24⅜, a fall of 2 per cent. from the opening rate. A rumor of the serious illness of Horace F. Clark was used to depress the stock, which proves unfounded, as he is able to attend the conference with Gould, Schell, Tracey and others. The movement had a general effect, carrying Western Union off, with free sales, to 85⅜. Ohio's from 38⅜ to 37⅜, Atlantic and Pacific to 19⅞, C. C. and I. C. from 28 to 27⅞, Pacific Mail from 39⅜ to 38⅜, Erie from 63⅛ to 62⅞, Rock Island from 109⅛ to 108⅜, St. Paul from 52 to 51⅜, and Wabash from 67⅞ to 67⅜. There was subsequently a slight improvement, say ⅛@⅜ per cent., on the general list, but under the leadership of Union Pacific, which left off at the lowest figure of the day, the closing tone was one of weakness.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

Trade in general merchandize continues dull, as it usually is at this particular time, and no improvement is expected: the demand for all of the leading staples is restricted wholly to supplying immediate wants, there is an almost entire absence of anything like speculation, notwithstanding money is easy, and there seems to be a general shrinking in values.

APPLES—Will soon be out of season: we continue to quote at $2.50 to $4 per brl, according to quality.

BUTTER—There is no improvement in the demand, and no change in prices; 14@16 for good to prime, and 8@12 for common to medium.

BROOM CORN—Is firm and in limited supply but unchanged, ranging from 5 to 9c ℔ lb. according to quality.

BEANS—Quotable in a jobbing way at $2.75@3.25 per bushel, as to quality.

CHEESE—Prime Ohio Factory is still quoted at 12c to the trade, and 13 in a jobbing way. Dairy don't seem to be wanted at any price; may be quoted nominally at 6 to 8c.

COUNTRY BACON—Continues dull, but prices are nominally unchanged.

EGGS—Continue weak, notwithstanding the receipts are light, and prices are barely maintained: 20@21c.

FLOUR—Continues weak and dull, in sympathy with wheat, and we reduce our quotations 25 cents per brl. as follows: $7.25@7.75 for fair to choice Spring wheat flours, and $8.50@8.75 for western red winter wheats. All the leading markets continue to be reported dull and drooping; it is said that there has been a depreciation of fully one dollar per brl. in New York within the past week or ten days.

GRAIN—We have to report a very dull and unsatisfactory market for all kinds of Grain and no improvement need be looked for until prices become more settled; as long as the tendency is downward, buyers will take hold very sparingly, and besides the demand is usually meagre at this season of the year. There is little or no call for Wheat, and with considerable offering, prices are weak; red winter cannot be fairly quoted above $1.55@1.60. The Oat market also continues dull and overstocked, but prices are not quotably lower, 43@45 for mixed to prime white. The supply of Corn, both shelled and ear continues light and stocks are very much reduced, but there is no quotable change in prices; the latter is quotable at 55@56 on track, and 57@58 free in elevator. Rye is dull and nominal at 83@85.

GROCERIES—There are no new features in the grocery market deserving of special notice: we can report a fair demand for the leading staples, and a fair volume of business in the aggregate, but there is no change to make in quotations.

COFFEE—Choice Rio, 25; Good to Prime, 22@23½c, fair 21@21½c. Old Government Java, 31c; other Javas, 26@28c; Roasted Rio, 1 lb packages, 28c; loose, 27½c. Roasted Java, 33½.

SUGARS—Patent Cut Loaf, 12½c; Crushed, Granulated and Powdered, 11¾; Standard A, 10¾; B, 10½; Ex. C, 10⅛c; C. Yellow, 10½; Circle C, 10¾; Lower grades, 9@10.

HAY—Baled continues very dull, and there is but little prospect of any improvement either in the demand or prices; we continue former quotations, $18@24, according to quality. Straw is also very dull, and Oat straw which a few weeks ago was in demand, with sales at $20@25, will scarcely bring half that money now.

POTATOES—Sales in a jobbing way from store at 70 to 75c per bu. for mixed, and 85 to 90c for Peach Blows. New Crop are drooping, $5@6 per brl.

POULTRY—Spring chickens, 65 to 75 cents per pair according to size.

PROVISIONS—Extra Sugar Cured Hams, ℔ lb, 14½c. Ex. Sugar Cured Shoulders, 9½c; Sugar cured Breakfast Bacon, 12½c. Extra Sugar Cured Dried Beef, 19c. Beef tongues, $7.50 ℔ dozen. Bacon Shoulders, per lb, 8½c. Bacon Rib Sides, 9½c, 9¾c. Bacon Short Rib Sides, 10c. Bacon Clear Rib Sides, 10½c. Mess Pork, $17.50 per bbl. Prime Leaf Lard, in tres, 9½c. Refined for summer use, in trces, 10c. Do. half bbls, 10½c. Do. bkts, 11c. Do. in 3 lb. caddies, 12½c. Do in 5 lb, 12½c. Do. in 3 lb. pails 13½c; do. in 5 lb. pails, 13½c. Do. in 6 lb. pails, 13.

RAGS—Quoted at 3½@3¾c.

SEEDS—Flax Seed continues scarce and sells readily at $2.10@2.12½ per bushel.

WHISKY—We reduce our quotations for Highwines to 94@95c per gallon.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL STOCK YARDS, EAST LIBERTY, WEDNESDAY, June 18, 1873.

CATTLE.

The arrivals both of through consignments and those intended for sale here have been and continue liberal; it was thought by some operators that the "run" of local stock was unusually large, and while trade has been quite active, as there is a very full attendance of buyers, prices, as compared with last week, are from 20 to 25c ℔ cwt lower. The sales from and including Monday up until noon to-day footed up 1957 head against some 1 400 during the corresponding time last week, and about 900 the week preceding; the market was very active this forenoon, which was evident from the fact that about 1,300 cattle changed hands, the bulk of which were taken by Philadelphia buyers. There has been no inquiry thus far for shipment to New York, notwithstanding the decline, and it is not likely there will be, as it is claimed by those who are in a position to know whereof they assert, that there is no money in buying here to ship to that market. The inquiry, as has been the case for some time past, is mainly for light cattle, weighing say from 1,050@1,150 lbs, of good quality and in good condition, which are selling at from 5¾@6c, and the great bulk of the cattle that have been sold up to this time were within the above range. Prime to extra 1,300@1,400 steers may be quoted at 6½@6¾—up until noon to-day there had been nothing sold above 6.30, but there was a bunch on sale that was held at 6¾, although it is probable that 6½ would be accepted, and, as a salesman remarked, it takes a whacking good drove to bring 6¾. There was no demand scarcely for stock cattle, and hence the market is dull, and prices drooping, may be quoted at 3½@4½ for common to good, and 5c for prime.

Trade opened up earlier this week than usual, which may be attributed to the sellers, who, becoming satisfied that there was nothing to be made by holding or shipping on east, concluded to make the concessions demanded, and by so doing they were enabled to come together, and the indications are that the movement was a wise one as it is not likely that prices will be any higher at the close; indeed, we should not be surprised if there was a still further shrinkage before the week elapses.

There were a number of Allegheny dealers in attendance; some of them bought for the Allegheny market next Monday, and it is probable that others will do likewise before the close, as cattle are cheaper here relatively than at Chicago, which point has been their main source of supply for several months. It is expected that grass cattle will soon commence to come in freely—there were some of this character here this week.

SHEEP.

The arrivals up this time have not been as large as they were during the corresponding time last week, but the supply has been and is still fully up to the demand, which is evident from the fact that, as compared with last week, prices have declined from 20 to 25c per cwt. Up to this time there has not been a single purchase for New York, while during the same time last week Erisman alone must have bought some 15 or 16 cars; it is true the Philadelphia men are here in full force and are buying pretty freely, but there are more sheep on sale than they will be able to take, and unless some transient buyers make their appearance, which is not probable, it is more than likely, notwithstanding the decreased receipts, that some lots will have to go on east in first hands. Prime 100 lb sheep cannot be fairly quoted above 5½, against 5¾ last week; prime 90@95 lbs, 4¾@5; 80@85 lbs, 4½@4¾. One bunch of prime Washington county, Pa 100 lb, weathers sold at 5.80; and another lot of extra, averaging 136 lbs., brought 5¾. The market was generally regarded as one of the worst of the season for sellers, nearly all of whom will lose money, some of them a good deal of it, as prices are lower than they have been, if we mistake not, at any time this year—there has been a decline of fully one cent per lb. within the past few weeks, and the indications at this writing are that the bottom has not yet been reached.

HOGS.

The arrivals of hogs continue large, and with an increased demand prices are higher notwithstanding the hot weather; prime to extra selected Philadelphia hogs may be quoted at 5.50 to 5.60, and the same grades of Yorkers at 5.30@5.40. Big rough hogs are dull, and cannot be quoted much above 5c—hogs to bring full prices must be of good quality and in good condition, as buyers scrutinize these two qualifications very closely. Salesmen are by no means confident of this last advance being sustained any time unless the receipts continue very light, for just as soon as there is a surplus of a few cars, another break it is confidently predicted will be the result.

Visible Supply of Grain.

The visible supply of grain, including the stocks in granary at the principal points of accumulation at lake and seaboard ports, in transit by lake, rail, and on the New York canals, June 7, 1873, and the comparative stocks at the other undermentioned periods, were as follows:

	1873. June 7.	1873. May 31.	1872. June 8.	1871. June 9.
Wheat, bu.	6,002,435	5,998,761	5,195,724	4,368,204

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, June 18.—The advance in cotton has imparted more firmness to manufactured goods in first hands, but quotations are unchanged. Heavy cassimeres and over-coatings are in moderate request, but jeans and satinets are dull. Brown and bleached cottons are quiet and jobbing at irregular rates. Corset jeans are dull. Denims are fairly active and firm. Prints and ginghams are slow. Percales, cambrics and lawns are in moderate request. Foreign goods are inactive.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, June 18, 1873.

The Crude market continues weak and drooping; sales reported at $2.17½ per brl. at Parker, equal to 6c per gallon delivered here. Refined—there were some purchases yesterday at 19¾ in Philadelphia, but quotations may be given at 19¾@19½c, and on cars here at 15¾@16. It was worthy of notice that while Crude has declined considerably within the past two weeks, there has been little or no change in the product; perhaps the raw material was above its legitimate value.

Oil Barrels are in rather better supply, several lots having arrived by river within the past day or two, but prices are still maintained; countries, $2.15; city make, 10 lb. hoops, $2.25.

RIVER NEWS.

The stage of water last evening was but little over 3 feet. Weather cloudy and hot, with indications at times favorable for rain. Business continues very quiet at the landing, and no immediate improvement is anticipated.

The Mollie Ragon, from Wheeling, arrived and departed, and the towboat Park Painter arrived with 3 barges containing oil barrels.

The meeting of the Ohio River Improvement Commission is in session at the Monongahela House. It is hoped that the meeting may be a successful one, and that the object in view may be stimulated and encouraged, as it is a very important matter, and one in which Pittsburgh is deeply interested.

The Mollie Ebert will lie up at Cincinnati, and wait for water.

Our steamboatmen have begun to think that there will be no June rise this year; usually there is a freshet in this month, but it begins to look as if this June would be an exception to the general rule in this respect.

—The St Louis Democrat has following particulars in regard to the Mary McDonald disaster: The fire was first discovered by the chief engineer, Mr. Wm. W. Southard, by smoke issuing from the after hatch. The hose being attached to a deck pump, it was soon in motion, manned by at least a dozen men pouring a steady stream of water into the hold. The steam fire extinguisher that leads in the hold was turned on immediately, and the hatches closed, but seemed to have little or no effect. During this time the assistant engineer had attached hose to the steam syphon pump, and everything possible was done to save the boat, but without effect. She was soon enveloped in flames, and the heat was so intense we were all forced to leave, but not until everything possible was done to save her. Mr. Wash. Martin, the mate, and his men, including the firmen, deserved great credit for working with a will. When there was no hope or possible chance for saving the boat we all left, the flames following close behind us. Several attempts was made to scuttle her by the carpenter, Mr. Philip Appleton, but without success, as the boat could not be approached on account of the intense heat. The boat burned in a very short time to the water's edge, where she smouldered and sunk next to the bank, making a seething and hissing sound as she went down, to be heard a long way off. The engineer guarded against an explosion by having the boilers well supplied with water, so that when they were enveloped in flames nothing occurred except the bursting of the main steam pipe, which exploded with a loud report, causing some to think the boilers had let go. One or two reports followed, but with less force. Very little was saved from the boat, as the time was so short. Everything was so dry above deck that it took but a few moments, apparently, to burn her to the water's edge. Some of the stock on the forward part of the boat was driven ashore, but about ten head of cattle on the stern of the boat were burned alive, as they could not be approached, the fire being between us and them. The bellowing of the beasts was horrible to hear. The boat had a fine trip in prospect, and at the time of the fire was drawing four feet, with engagements below for a full load.

—The chief of police at Memphis notifies steamboats that they are liable to a fine of $50 for keeping or entertaining passengers for more than six hours before departure, and 3 hours in daylight after arriving, unless a hotel license is procured.

—Diver Hiram Hill repaired the leak of the Great Republic, and she left for New Orleans at 9 o'clock Friday evening. The leak was quite small.

—The Upper Mississippi boatmen have forwarded to President Grant a petition to change the Mercy Hospital at Davenport into a United States Marine Hospital.

Drowned While Bathing.

Coroner West yesterday held an inquest on the body of Casper Foegle, who was drowned on Tuesday evening, in Succup's ice pond in the Twenty-second ward. The deceased had gone into the pond to take a bath and being seized with cramps suddenly disappeared and was drowned. The water at the place being about eight feet deep. After his disappearance some of his companions missed him, but thought he had gone home, till they found his clothes laying upon the bank. After about an hour's search, the body was recovered. A verdict of "accidental drowning" was rendered. The deceased was a native of Germany, and had been but one year in this country.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—The Indians closed their hair-raising engagement last night. This evening the great American and world-renowned humorist, Alf. Burnett, will appear in a melange of his side splitting comicalities. Mr. Burnett possesses the art of facial expression, such as no other living artist. He makes eight changes in sight of the audience in ten minutes—by the watch. He is accompanied by Miss Helen Mack, an accomplished elocutionist, who will give some select reading, and Mr. J. W. Sharpley, the greatest concertina player in the country. This troupe together, certainly, can not help but give an entertainment that will be relished and appreciated by all. The house ought to be crowded.

The Homestead Park Excursion To-day.

This morning at 8:48 the excursion train for Homstead Park will leave Union Depot, filled with the guests of the Company. Having, ourselves, traversed the two hundred and forty acres comprised in the Park, we are safe in promising the excursionists to-day, if the weather favors, a most agreeable jaunt, and some delightful views—the Park surface undulates so that the outlook, always beautiful, is sometimes quite extensive and picturesque. We foresee that when these grounds shall be taken and occupied they will well deserve the name given to them; they will compose a colonized park of rarest beauty. We advise all who can spare a few hours to embrace the opportunity presented this morning of a pleasant ride to one of our most charming suburbs, and we warn all who go that the temptation to possess some share in the Park will be hard to resist.

Death of Rev. David Hess.

This well known minister, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, Bloomfield, Sixteenth ward, died yesterday morning, aged about sixty years. Shortly after Conference, in March, he took sick, and after a protracted and alarming illness, improved sufficiently to go about again, but was unable to do any pastoral work. For a week or so he appeared to be considerably worse, the disease seeming to have taken a sudden turn, as he sank rapidly. The disease, we believe, was complicated, chiefly an affection of the kidneys. He was in charge of the work in Birmingham resulting in the erection of the Walton M. E. church, for three years, and was instrumental in building up a large and vigorous congregation. His death is much lamented, for his faithful ministerial services and blameless life. The funeral will take place to-morrow.

True Bills Against Them—Mrs. Dudley Indicted as Accessory.

Yesterday the case of Dudley and Wales, the Postoffice robbers and general forgers came up before the Grand Jury of the United States Court, now setting at Williamsport, and eleven true bills were found against them. One against Wales and Dudley, jointly, for conspiracy; four against Wales for stealing letters and drafts from the mail; three against Dudley as accessory after the fact; three against Dudley for receiving drafts stolen from the mail, and one against Mrs. Stevennetta Dudley as accessory after the fact. It is the intention to have them tried at the next term of Court in Pittsburgh.

CLOSING EXCERCISES.

What was Done at the High School Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon Rev. George P. Hays, D. D., President of Washington and Jefferson College, addressed the Literary Societies connected with the Central High School in the Chapel of that institution. The address was very neat and spicy, and very entertaining, and contained considerable advice. After the lecture, the work done in the Commercial Department, under Prof. Cochran, was exhibited. It reflects great credit upon that portion of the institution, and shows a complete and practical study of commerce and commercial law in all its branches. In the Drawing Department some especially creditable work was noticeable. The young ladies' drawing was from copies of heads, busts, limbs, etc., and they showed considerable taste and culture. The young gentlemen did more practical work in the shape of mechanical drawing from models, some of which showed master hands. About one hundred dollars' worth of busts and models are now on their way from Europe for the institution. This evening the commencement exercises will be held at Library Hall, when the diplomas will be awarded to the graduates. To-morrow evening the Alumni hold their thirteenth annual re-union at the High School.

THE FINANCIAL DIFFICULTY.

How The McClean Case Stands.

There has been no particularly important developments in the case of the suspension of the banking house of S. McClean & Co. since our report yesterday morning. Some time ago it appears Mr. McClean advanced $60,000 to a manufacturing institution which could not return the money when desired, resulting it is claimed in Mr. McClean's present embarrassment. The amount of money left him by his father, and which was his main capital for the prosecution of business was something over $70,000. The money referred to above as having been loaned in a certain quarter is said to be perfectly secure, and will be eventually forthcoming. It appears that when the father of Mr. McClean died he willed that the interest of $30,000 should be paid as an annuity to a member of the family, the amount named to be kept intact for that purpose in the hands of a trustee. Mr. McClean's embarrassments, it is stated, endangered this deposit, and to make it good he purchased from Ira B. McVay & Co., on Saturday morning, $30,000 of Pittsburgh bonds, to be registered in the name of Abdiel McClure. In part payment for the bonds Eastern exchange was given to the amount of $18,000. On Monday when the crisis came he conveyed the bonds back to them, conveying also some of his real estate to make good the deposit of $30,000. There are many rumors abroad, but we do not desire to give them, preferring to wait until true statements and facts can be offered.

CELESTIAL ARRIVALS.

Dissatisfied Beaver Falls Chinamen Arrive at the Union Depot this Morning.

This morning the monotony of Union Depot existence was considerably enlivened by the appearance of one hundred dark faced Mongolians, who had become dissatisfied at Beaver Falls and were on their way westward. An interview with Chow Hung revealed the fact that he and Ah Poy could not agree, because "Ah Poy, he no honest; he stealee." He stated that he C. Hung, Esq., had brought the first "pig tails" to Beaver Falls to the number of sixty. They were there for some time, and were happy, till one sad day, from "Califoinee" came Ah Poy with another dark band of eighty. A shadow of unhappiness was thrown across their dreams of bliss, and their rice and mice stews tasted to them like unto gall.

But their misery was not complete. Ah Poy he got control, and he wanted his own way, as he had made all the contracts and was to receive their pay and deliver it to them. Now, he alleges that, "For ways that are dark and tricks that are vain Ah Poy is very peculiar." He not only tried to "sendee" back to "Chinee" Chow Hung, but he always kept back six or eight dollars per month. Chow said he was going to Cincinnati, where all is bliss.

Our next interview was with Mr. Y Lee. He stated that "Ah Poy, he big fraud; he no goodee; he no workee; he stealee six to eight dollars a month—and much go see his girls. He big humbug." He stated that he had brought over forty celestials, whose que now it was to go back to California, and stay and be content.

The Chinamen, those that could speak English, were very communicative and cursed loudly, cue and all, the treacherousness of Ah Poy. Y-Lee says, "he no got a soft thing, he go back."

OHIO RIVER COMMISSION.

Meeting Yesterday Afternoon at the Monongahela House—The Members of the Commission and Those Present—Report of the Executive Committee—Resolutions Passed by the Illinois Legislature—Portland Bar—The Session To Day.

Yesterday afternoon the Commission appointed to devise ways and means for the improvement of the Ohio river held a meeting at the Monongahela House. The members present were Hon. J. K. Moorehead, Joseph Walton, Esq., Mr. Geo. H. Thurston, John G. Peebles, of Portsmouth, Ohio, Capt. W. P. Haliday, of Cairo Illinois, Captain J. P. Santmyer of Cincinnati, Secretary of the Commission, Captain John Gilbert of Golconda, Illinois, Captain Chas. W. Meekin, of New Albany, Indiana, Gen. T. N. Powers, of Rochester, Pa., and Lieut. Mahan representing the civil engineers. The Commission is composed of thirty-five members who were appointed by the Governors of the States of the Ohio valley. All the members were not present yesterday at the meeting, some were elsewhere in the city and others on the way. To-day it is expected that there will be an increased number in attendance. Col. Wm. E. Merrill Chief Engineer of the improvement was to be on hand, but he was unexpectedly called to St. Louis. Five meetings have been held by the Commission since it has been in existence. Three in Cincinnati, and two visits were made to Washington City for the purpose of securing the assistance of the Government in making the proposed improvements in the Ohio river and its navigable tributaries.

THE COMMISSION.

The following named gentlemen constitute the Commission:

Pennsylvania—Gen. J. K. Morehead, George H. Thurston and Joseph Walton, Pittsburgh; General Thomas J. Power, Rochester and Edward Blanchard, Bellefonte.

West Virginia—Thomas Sweeney and Captain McClure, Wheeling; W. T. Poole, Parkersburg; J. S. King, West Columbia, and Dr. J. P. Hale, Charleston.

Kentucky—Jos. Doniphan, Augusta; John Means, Ashland; Z. M. Shirley, Louisville; Vincent Shinkle, Covington, and M. Weil, Paducah.

Ohio—V. B. Horton, Pomeroy; Robert Martin, Steubenville; Benj. Eggleston and Thomas Sherlock, Cincinnati, and J. G. Peebles, Portsmouth.

Indiana—O. P. Cobb, Aurora; Chas. H. Meekin, New Albany; J. A. Lemcke, Evansville; Chas. Mason, Cannelton, and Lary Noble, Vincennes.

Illinois—John Gilbert, Golconda; Alfred Cutting, Metropolis; Charles Carroll, Shawneetown; James Fackney, Cairo, and W. Halliday, Cairo.

Tennessee—D. N. Kennedy, Clarksville; A. G. Adams, Nashville; Frank McClurg, Knoxville, and R. A. Pinson and W. M. Farrington, Memphis.

BUSINESS COMMENCED.

At three o'clock the Commission was called to order by Hon. J. K. Moorhead, chairman, who made a few remarks regretting that there was not a larger number in attendance, but hoping that by to-day nearly all would be present.

The minutes of the last meeting, held at Cincinnati, on the 20th of September, 1872, were read by Captain Santmyer, and on motion were approved.

Mr. Moorhead read letters from Edward Blanchard, of Bellefonte, Centre county, Pa., and Captain John McClure, of Wheeling, West Virginia, members of the Commission, giving reasons why they could not attend the meeting, offering practical suggestions, and wishing success.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEES REPORT.

Mr. George H. Thurston, from the Executive Committee appointed at the last meeting, submitted the following report, which was adopted:

To the Commissioners for the Improvement of the Ohio River and its Tributaries:

GENTLEMEN: At the meeting held at Cincinnati on September 20, 1872, a special committee was appointed to proceed to Washington to present the memorial adopted by the Commission to Congress, and take such further action as was deemed proper for the furtherance of the object of the Commission. It is a matter to regret that only one of the Committee went to Washington. Under the circumstances, but little could be accomplished beyond the presentation of the memorial of the Commissioners, which was presented to the House of Representatives and the Senate, respectfully received and ordered printed in the Congressional Globe. Under the absence of all the other members of the committee, no official action could be taken. This is to be regretted, as at the time the committee on behalf of the James River and Kanawha Canal, had assembled at Washington, and were looking forward to a joint session with the committee of the Ohio River Commissioners, with a view to such concerted action as would eventuate to such an impression on Congress as would lead to a definite declaration of that body as to the importance of the National Government taking immediate and prolonged measures to improve the water communication of the country. Much interest was manifested among members of Congress on this subject in conversations held with them, and I found that the session of your committee in Washington, which had been some time previous announced through the public press, had been looked forward to with interest among all parties anxious for the greater utilization of our river system of transportation. The Governor of Georgia, in view of this, had appointed Col. Frobel, of that State, a special commissioner to proceed to Washington for the purpose of consulting with the Committee of the Board of Commissioners for the improvement of the Ohio river. The State of Georgia being much interested in the construction of a ship canal from the head waters of the Tennessee through Georgia to Savannah. In the absence of all the other members of the commission, no official action could be taken, in conjunction with other committees present in Washington on similar business. It is here proper to say that the Board of Commissioners for the improvement of the Ohio, being created by the action of seven great States, so powerful in their political strength, so large in their population, so great in their mineral resources, and in their prospective financial wealth, by reason thereof has been accorded by all the various organizations laboring for the cheapening of transportation by the improvement of the carrying ability of our lines of water channels a leading position in the whole movement, and it is not right that its members should fail to work heartily, promptly and with one earnest spirit in so great a national matter. In view of the failure of the Special Committee appointed at Cincinnati to assemble at Washington, at the suggestion of the Chairman of the Executive Committee, a special meeting of the whole Commission was called by the Chairman of the Commission, Hon. J. K. Moorhead, to meet at Washington, on February 22d, 1873. At this special meeting Commissioners from five of the seven States were present, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky and Illinois were present.

In the absence by reason of important personal matters of the Chairman of the Commission, the Chairman of the Executive Committee, Mr. Thurston was chosen acting chairman. A week was spent in Washington, during which interviews were had with the President of the United States, Major General Humphries, Engineer-in-Chief of the United States, Hon. Senator Tindom, Chairman of the special committee of the Senate on Internal Transportation, the committee of the House on appropriations, and in visiting many members of Congress, the matter which your commission have in charge was found by the commissioners then at Washington to be one to which all members of Congress

The President of the United States and such other chief officers of the Government as were visited, had given considerable thought, upon which they were not only willing but desirous of receiving information, and willing to act when defined plans had been presented, and the proper time had arrived. It is at this very point of procedure that your Commission find an obstacle. All those who have the power to legislate the financial part of the Ohio river and its tributaries desire at once to know what is the plan proposed. Nearly all unite in saying that the limited appropriations made from year to year are nearly useless, and a waste of money. That some broad, comprehensive plan for the improvement of the Ohio should be presented to Congress, with estimates of its cost, and then it would be easy to judge whether the benefits not merely now but in the future, would justify the general government in undertaking the work, and expending the sum required for carrying out the plan. This very objection, part of a plan, I may be permitted here to say, is one that in many years of variously directed efforts to improve the Ohio river, with which I have had the honor to be connected has always stood in the way of an accomplishment of any adequate financial basis for the work. It is, however, a plain, common sense objection. It is idle to expect Congress to appropriate any large sum approaching that which it is evident will be required to make the Ohio the great water highway. The people of the seven great States we represent in this matter, and I may go further and say the people of the whole West desire, unless some appraised plan and estimates by competent engineers of its corps is presented to Congress, from what that body recognizes as official authority.

Many plans have been suggested by eminent engineers; all have met their objections, and it seems from the many able critiques, on the list of these plans, that no one system is adapted to the Ohio river, but that some combination of several will have to be adopted. Upon any plan that might be created by this Board as citizens, it is probable that Congress would be loth to act unless the same was fully endorsed by the Engineer Department of the United States. On any plan that might be presented by professional engineers through this Board of Commissioners similar action might be expected. In this view of the while subject the question of progress to be made by this Board of Commissioners on the improvement of the Ohio was discussed by them during their session in Washington, under the information and light obtained in their interviews with those in authority. The conclusion arrived at was, that in order that Congress should be brought face to face with this important question of the improvement of the Ohio, and that your Commissioners should have the fair opportunity to bring home to that body the comparative question of the cost of the improvement and its present and ultimate benefits; that at the next session of Congress there should be presented to that body a definite plan for the improvement of the Ohio, and its detailed cost. It was determined that as Congress very properly would be unwilling to appropriate large sums of money to carry out a plan which had no origin in the engineer department of the government, while the officers of that department would be unwilling to carry on the construction of an improvement as United States officers without the plan and its details having been prepared by them. That, therefore, this plan should be the work of the Chief Engineer of the United States. In this spirit the Commissioners in Washington called upon General Humphries in a body, and laid the subject before him, and requested him to state if he had any objections to preparing such a plan for the next session of Congress, to be by him submitted as the ultimate plan, upon which he would recommend the permanent improvement of the water facilities of the Ohio and its tributaries. Your Commissioners are gratified to report that they found Chief Engineer General Humphries in full sympathy with the object of this Commission. After a full discussion, he assented to the request to undertake the preparation of such a plan if there were appropriations made for some expenses that would attend the work. This small appropriation your Commission undertook to have incorporated in the General Appropriation bill, the resolution being discussed with the Committee on Appropriations, and meeting their assent. A resolution to that effect, and directing the report of said plan by the Chief Engineer of the Government, was drawn up in proper form and submitted to the approval of those concerned. It was left in the charge of members of Congress from the several States represented by this Commission, to be introduced into the General Appropriation bill during its usual discussion in the House, such being thought the best way to secure its passage. It is a great regret that, for some reason, this resolution, in which seven leading States of the Union were so vitally interested, was never pushed, in the scramble to get in appropriations. Had the resolution been pressed it would have been adopted, there can hardly be a doubt, as it was sufficiently understood on the floor of the House that it was the semi-official request of the Engineer Department. Had the resolution passed, it is possible, all things else favoring, that there would have been submitted to the coming session of Congress a plan from General Humphries for the improvement of the Ohio, which, from the high source from which it would have emanated, would have been ultimate in the views and positions taken, and, of such a character to command the attention of Congress, the support of the Chief Executive, and, enabled the Board of Commissioners to have brought to bear upon Congress the strength the question of the improvement of the Ohio river and its tributaries has with the people of the West.

As but a small portion of the Commissioners were present at the session in Washington this brief report is deemed to be properly submitted for their information, and also as indicating what in the view of those who were there is the proper plan to secure sufficient action on the part of Congress to accomplish the object in view, in the creation of this Board. There are so many diverse interests to be served in the navigation of the Ohio, that objections to all plans arise. In these avowals and objections Congress looses sight of the interest of the whole country in question. It will hardly be possible to carry out so great a general work without perhaps pinching somewhere some interests, and obliging special branches of trade to adapt themselves to the new order of things. Some arbitrator must step in to determine the plan, and to no arbitrator will the assent of Congress be given as to the Engineer Department of the United States and its chief officer. That Department have no ends to serve save their country's, and stand in all their record unimpeachable for talent, probity and justice. It does seem to me that the failure by reason of the resolution before alluded to not being pressed to passage, to have this session a well-defined plan from the Chief Engineer of the United States for the permanent improvement of the Ohio and its tributaries is a subject for much regret, and it seems something to the accomplishment of which the whole strength of this Commission should be turned. With such a plan laid before Congress and recommended by the Chief Engineer of the United States, with his statement of costs, the work of the Commission is half accomplished. To the voice of the people Congress must listen, and, if we are to judge by the signs of the times, the people are very much interested.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTIONS.

The following preamble and resolutions passed by the Legislature of the State of Illinois, on the 3d of May, 1873, were also submitted as a portion of the report of the Executive Committee. The Legislatures of the other States bordering on the Ohio river, are to be requested to take similar action.

WHEREAS, The Governor of this State complying with a request of a convention held at Cincinnati Feb. 20, 1872, did in joint action with the Governors of Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, appoint five commissioners to represent Illinois, and act with a like number of commissioners from each of the other States above named, to the end that a board of commissioners might thus be established through and by the exertions of which the Government of the United States should be induced to enter with the least possible delay upon the work of making the Ohio and and its navigable tributaries, safe, cheap and reliable highways, and

WHEREAS, The seven States represented by this Commission and the seven other great States bordering on the Mississippi Valley, contain one-half of the whole population of the nation and produce quite sixty per cent. of the farm products of the whole country, and to which cheap transportation is therefore a necessity, and

WHEREAS, In consequence of the high rates of railroad transportation, the profits of the agriculturalists have been destroyed; while the value of farming lands has been greatly impaired, and capital has thus been discouraged from engaging in agricultural development.

Therefore be it resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring herein, that the improvement of the great water lines of the country cheapen the cost of transportation, contribute to the agricultural and mineral resources of the country and add to the general prosperity.

Resolved, That we recognize the authority of the joint commission for the improvement of the Ohio river and its tributaries created by joint action of the Governors of the Ohio Valley States and endorse and sustain its action to obtain the sufficient and proper support of the Government of U. S. in the great public work committed to the charge of said Commission.

Resolved, That to give said Commission greater efficiency in its labors we hereby request our Senators and Representatives in the Congress of the United States to give to the suggestions of this joint board of Commissioners for the Ohio and its tributaries their combined and earnest support.

Resolved, That the Governor of this State is hereby requested to forward a copy of this preamble and resolutions to each Senator and Representative in the Congress of the United States from Illinois.

When the consideration of the report of the Executive Committee was concluded, Captain Meekin offered a letter, which was read by the Secretary, from Messrs Seamer & Hurley of New Albany, requesting Mr. Meekin to bring to the notice of the Commission the damage to navigation caused by the dam built by General Weitzell, extending from the head of Sand Island to the Indiana shore. Since its construction Portland bar has become the shoalest bar in the river Last year there was not over fourteen inches of water on it. The channel, owing to cross-currents, has become crooked and the bar lumpy. The Commission was requested by the letter to ask for a dredge-boat, so that the channel could be kept clear.

Captain Halliday moved that the letter be laid on the table. He said it was not the business of the Commission to attend to local interests, and if they came into conflict with the civil engineers the object they desired to attain would be defeated. Mr. Moorhead was of the same opinion with Mr. Haliday, he thought that consideration of such matters was not within the jurisdiction of the Commission, but he desired that Mr. Meekin's constituents might have a fair hearing. After some discussion Mr. Halliday withdrew his motion in order to allow some statistics that accompanied the above letter to be read. The object of the statistics was to show the amount of trade, &c., passing over Portland bar, and the necessity of keeping the channel clear. The statistics were read, and then on motion Captain Meekin was given permission to withdraw the papers which he did.

After an informal discussion in relation to reservoirs for keeping a uniform stage of water in the Ohio river all the year round, which was participated in by all the members, the Commission adjourned to meet again at nine o'clock this morning. At to-day's session a number of gentlemen will express their views at length as to the proper method and best plans for improving the Ohio and its navigable tributaries.

The members of the Commission are sanguine of success, and think that they will eventually complete the project that they have entered upon, great though it is.

Good and Cheap Houses.

To parties contemplating the purchase of a house, we would say that the houses recently erected on Railroad street, Mount Washington, by Joseph Orr, of South Pittsburgh, are the most eligibly located of any houses we know of now offered for sale. Being but a few minutes walk from the Incline Plane, they are so convenient to the business center of the city that the whole time consumed in reaching them need not exceed ten minutes. And then the comfort of living there so much exceeds the living in the city, that the purchaser could never regret his investment. The houses are perfect beauties, being boarded with the stone block weather-boarding, each having six rooms, well lighted and ventilated, and each one supplied with a hundred barrel cistern, besides good wells for drinking uses. As regards the conveniences of living they are all that could be desired, and the location is one of the most pure and healthful, while the lookout is beautiful and extended. They are offered for sale, (but if not sold will be for rent) and the purchase of one of these houses, must undoubtedly prove a most profitable investment. Go and see them. There is a bargain in them and no mistake. Joseph Orr, of the South Side Planing Mill, corner of Chestnut and Third streets, will give you all the information desired.

Read This for Your Benefit.

Do you wish to purchase a neat, well-designed, beautifully located, well-finished and conveniently arranged house, only a few minutes walk from the heart of Pittsburgh? If you do, then allow us to say that Joseph Orr has erected on Railroad street, Mt. Washington, a very short distance from the inclined plane, four new houses, which exactly fill the bill, not even omitting a single letter. He offers these houses for sale, and without question there is no property now in the market so favorably located and so desirable in every respect as these same houses. In the city for all its conveniences and out of it for all its inconveniencies. Healthful as regards the air and water, and delightful in regard to location and scenery. Call on Joseph Orr, corner of Chestnut and Third streets, South Pittsburgh, and learn price and terms.

Pianos! Pianos! Pianos!

Call at the Allegheny Piano Rooms, No. 131 Federal street, and learn at what reasonable rates and terms you can secure a piano or organ. Pianos ranging in price from $275 to $1,500. Remember the place, Blue Front, 131 Federal street, J. M. Leighner & Co.

Summer Suits.

Summer has at length been fully inaugurated, and winter clothing must give way to light and cool fabrics of summer wear. B. Teigel, No. 53 Smithfield street, has a very fine selection of Summer Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings, which he is prepared to make up in the most fashionable style and in the most serviceable manner. He cannot be excelled in the matter of making a neat-fitting suit.

New Upholstering House.

Theophilus Roller, 150 Ohio street, Allegheny, has opened the above business, with a fine stock of Parlor Furniture as a specialty. He manufactures and has for sale his Patent Reversible Spring Mattress. Also a new and neat pattern of Bed Lounge for sale. 150 Ohio street.

In eating one of his square meals it is with the utmost difficulty that you can say, "hold enough," for goodness is a severe temptation to gluttony.

A NEW THING IN FREE EXCURSIONS.

No Auction, but a Visit of Inspection at Homestead Park!

The following card fully explains itself and shows, if it needs to be shown, that our friends of the Homestead Bank are still a little in advance of all their competitors, or rather their imitators. They will lead, let them follow who may.

HOMESTEAD BANK,
116 SMITHFIELD STREET,
PITTSBURGH, June 12, 1873.

Ladies and gentlemen contemplating the purchase of a rural home or investment in really valuable suburban property, are cordially invited to participate, with other guests of the Homestead Bank, in a visit to its extensive property, known as Homestead Park, Thursday, June 19.

The purpose of this excursion is to exhibit to those able to appreciate it, the rare natural beauty of this locality, and to convince them that in the hands of people of moderate means, the "Park" may really become the handsomest rural village in America.

There will be no auction of lots, but those wishing to purchase may do so at a fixed minimum price, and on terms to suit.

The advantages of this occasion can never again be had by parties of mutual friends desiring to locate together, nor by individuals wishing to have their tastes exactly suited, nor by investors looking for large and certain profits.

Tickets for the trip will be furnished at the bank. Carriages to convey ladies from place to place will be in readiness, and other essentials to make the day enjoyable will be provided.

The excursion will leave the Union Depot at 8:48 A. M., and return at 3:30 P. M.

Very respectfully, &c.,

HOMESTEAD PARK.

The Excursion but no Auction

To be given by the Homestead Bank at its "Park" property, on to-day, promises to be an extensive and characteristic affair. Large numbers of ladies and gentlemen, not commonly attendants at the usual auction excursions, are going in parties of mutual friends with a view to colonizing together in the Park.

If this idea is carried into effect to half the extent it ought to be, there is no doubt that in a few years the Park will be the handsomest village in America, and property will be worth more than it is now in the East Liberty Valley, but now it can be bought in the "Park" for from one-fifth to one-tenth that price.

There never was a truer thing than this said in these columns. No man who desires to secure a beautiful home, no man who wishes a certainly profitable investment in real estate can afford to miss to-day's entertainment at the Park. Call at the Bank and get tickets for yourself and friends.

The NO AUCTION Excursion Pic-nic at Homestead Park to-day. Free Train leaves Union depot at 8:48 A. M., sharp. If you cannot spare the whole day go on the 12 o'clock accommodation.

A Suggestive Fact.

There are to-day more men, women and children living in the single town of Homestead than in all the other boroughs (!) villages (!) and wards (!!) that have been sold at auction during the past two years. Yes, two to one.

People will soon understand that improvements will not go under compulsion where it will not go naturally. The Homestead Bank kept this natural law always in view when purchasing property for subdivision. Hence the actual growth of the villages it establishes. It never attempts to plant a town in an absurd or impossible location.

No one can visit Homestead Park and not be convinced that there must be a town grow up here.

The Excursion to Homestead Park

To-day will differ from the common auction excursion as much as the Park differs from the "town plans" and "villages" (!) commonly sold at auction. People who have been there (to the auction and the Park) will understand that the difference is great.

To-day At Homestead Park

will undoubtedly be by far the most pleasant excursion of the whole year. The FREE TRAIN leaves Union depot at 8:48 A. M., sharp; but those who cannot give the whole day can go out on the 12 o'clock accommodation train.

A Price Fixed for Every Lot.

The committee to fix the minimum price on the 500 large building sites at Homestead Park have finished their labor, and have astonished the Directors with the lowness of their figures, but it has been agreed that a limited number of lots may be sold at these low prices to day, after which a material advance will be made. In proof that the fixed prices are low it may be stated that for many very good lots the price is actually less by the acre than the adjoining farms can be bought for.

Don't Miss It.

There never was and probably never will again be offered so good an opportunity to see and secure at an exceedingly low price a choice place for your home, in the most beautiful of all the surroundings of this city, as to-day's excursion picnic at Homestead Park will afford—don't miss it.

PENNSYLVANIA FEMALE COLLEGE.

The Closing Exercises of the Term—The Examination of Classes—The Musical Entertainment.

The friends and patrons of the Pennsylvania Female College are now much interested in the exercises, incidental to the closing of the spring term.

The examination of the classes was continued in accordance with the programme previously announced on Tuesday afternoon. Exercises consisting of examinations of the classes in Latin by Miss Ludden, Mental Arithmetic by Miss Pellitreau, Moral Science by Prof. Gillespie, Geometry by Miss Purviance, French by Mrs. Christiana, Iliad of Homer by President Black, Physics by Prof. Burroughs, and Ceasar by President Black.

These examinations will sustain the favorable impression made by those of the previous day, as to the thoroughness of the methods of the institution, and the diligence of the pupils of this institution.

The "Soiree Musicale" on Tuesday evening was attended by a throng of visitors which was much beyond the capacity of the College Chapel comfortably to accommodate. We have not space to characterize in detail the several performances, and shall only say that, excellent as have been all the previous concerts given by Prof. Christiani and his pupils, this one excelled them all. The last two pieces were of his own composition, the concluding one being a symphone entitled "Orchestra Fun," which called into requisition the talents of nine (9) of his best pupils, in the various characters of hornpipe, nightingale, quail, cuckoo, trumpet, &c., much to the amusement and gratification of the audience.

Mr. J. W. Irwin, the well known and accomplished violinist, gave welcome assistance in this performance.

Yesterday morning the examinations were continued, the classes being disposed of in the following order: Algebra, Miss Ludden; French, Mrs. Christiana; Physical Geography, Prof. Burroughs.

The exercises of the Commencement proper took place yesterday afternoon at 3½ o'clock, and were attended by a large and appreciative audience. They consisted of the following named essays by the six young ladies composing the graduating class, most of them well known in this community: "Origin of the Drama," by Miss Minnie Sellers; "Pure Imagination and Vigorous Thought," Miss L. Locke; "St. Mark, Here and There," Miss Bessie D. McKnight; "Piers the Ploughman's Religion," Miss Lizzie R. Black; "Ahab, and the Cost of Them," Miss Lucy O'Hara; Beginning and Commencing," Miss Mame Renshaw.

The literary exercises were agreeably interspersed with vocal and instrumental music, in which the Misses Lide Campbell, Sallie W. Scully, Ida Faber, Nellie O. Barker and Eva Millen, participated. The essays were all of a character much above that of those usually heard on such occasions, and exhibited a maturity of thought, purity and vigor (we had almost said manliness) of style, and an acquaintance with language, history and literature, which, while the essays were entirely original, could have been the result only of the thorough mental culture received under President Black and his associates.

The essay by Miss Renshaw was also the valedictory, which was happily thought and expressed, besides being read with an overflow of emotion, which well nigh overcame herself and her hearers.

The brief parting address of the President, in connection with the conferring of degrees on the class, (first on the list being his own and only daughter), was most tender and parental, the whole being closed by a brief prayer for them.

We can only add that the whole of these closing exercises were such as to commend this admirable institution more than ever to the confidence of its patrons and friends.

The grand finale of the exercises was the entertainment given by President Black and family to the graduates last evening, which was largely attended,—was highly enjoyable,—and left pleasant memories with all who had the happiness to be in attendance.

Workingmen and Mechanics.

On next Monday, June 23rd, you will have a splendid opportunity offered you of making a paying investment. At that time will be offered at public sale the property known as the "Brereton Grounds," corner of Thirty-third street and Brereton avenue, than which there is none more desirable, and none having a prospect of more rapid enhancement in value. So near the "Great Working Center" of the city, having city water, gas but two squares distant, and so easy of access, both by street cars and Penna. Railroad. These lots can never depreciate in value, but must undoubtedly increase at least fifty per cent. within a few years. So even if you do not wish a lot for building, you need not hesitate to purchase on speculation, for there is money to be made in buying them. See advertisement in another column.

Elegant.

Some of the neatest and prettiest suits we have seen this season are to be found at the clothing emporium of H. Sutmeyer, Bro. & Co., southeast corner of Federal street and the Diamond, Allegheny. Here are to be found the latest styles of Mens', Youths', and Boy's Clothing, made from material the most fashionable and serviceable in either city. You can not do better than by ordering a suit at the above house, or by buying one already made.

A Difficulty.

To find a merchant tailoring establishment in our city is no difficult task, but to find one where you can be exactly suited, is not so easy. You may find one with good and serviceable material, but there may be a deficiency in the cutting and fitting department. But B. Tiegel, No. 53 Smithfield street, guarantees all the requisites of a tip-top clothing house. Material, fresh, fashionable and serviceable; the fit, perfect and complete, and the make-up substantial and durable. Tiegel's is the place and no mistake.

IF THE PHYSICIANS don't kill him, Kaiser Billy ought to be good for many years of service yet. A temperate liver, fond of exercise in the open air, accustomed to walk his five or six miles every day before breakfast, generally retiring about eleven o'clock, possessing naturally a vigorous constitution, not permitting himself to be too severely taxed by the cares of empire, most always in good spirits, of a happy, genial disposition, the old monarch certainly seems better fitted to make a stout fight for life than the venerable recluse of the Vatican, who, with a superior weight of years and a variety of ailments, has just so gloriously baffled both Death and the doctors.

NOTICING the death of John Stewart Mill, the London Times reproduces Thomas Moore's celebrated epigram on the two Mills in his "Ode to the Goddess Ceres." It was written in sarcasm on the Malthusian theory put forth by Mr. Mill, Jr.:

There are two Mr. Mills, too, whom those who like reading.
What's vastly unreadable call very clever;
And whereas Mill senior makes war on good breeding,
Mill junior makes war on all breeding whatever.

THE late Capt. Hall wrote as follows to the editor of The Nautical Gazette, before embarking in the Polaris: "I shall bring you tidings which will astonish the world, and recompense my friends for all their labors in my behalf, or I will die in the attempt. I will never return to the Arctic regions again if I am successful; but if I am not, and live to see the United States I shall tell my story, and then seek a home in the far north, where, in peace, I shall pass away to a better land. God bless you. Farewell."

A REINFORCEMENT DEMANDED.

When the system begins to wilt under the effects of the first "heated term," it is obvious that it ought to be reinforced and sustained by wholesome stimulation. To resort to the adulterated liquors of commerce in such a crisis, as so many do, is the height of infatuated folly. All such fiery stimulants have a sting. After the first effect has passed away, that sting is felt. The reaction is terrible. The prostration of body and mind which ensues is more complete than before. But the operation of a medical tonic like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, in which extracts of the rarest remedial herbs and roots are blended with the spirituous essence of rye, pure and unfied, is very different. No unpleasant reaction follows its use. It is a permanent, a perpetual invigorant, and there is no phase of debility, indigestion, biliousness, nervousness or intermittent fever which it will not speedily cure.

AUCTION SALES.

130 Building Lots,
ON
Washington Avenue
AND ADJACENT STREETS,
IN THE
SECOND WARD,
ALLEGHENY,
AT AUCTION!
SALE ON MONDAY,
June 23, at 2 o'clock.

The largest sale of Allegheny City Property which has occurred for many years will take place on MONDAY, June 23, at 2 o'clock, on the north side of Washington avenue, near to Fremont street, in Second ward. There are 130 lots, 22 and 24 feet front by 110 feet depth, a division of the late Gen. Robinson's property, heretofore excluded from public purchase.

Washington avenue, recently paved, is now one of the finest thoroughfares in the city, extending from Irwin avenue on the east, to the Ohio river on the west. This sale will supply a prevailing demand for good CITY LOTS in a locality where prices have not reached their height, but where there is a certainty of advance in value resulting from future improvements. Remember that these are within half a square of street cars and only ten minutes' ride to the Market House, and enjoying the full benefit of a paved street, gas, water, sewers, and other city advantages.

Now that this tract is thrown open to the public, improvements will advance, and prudent men cannot help seeing the advantage of being early purchasers. Past experience in Allegheny City has shown the wisdom of being early in the field in cases of this kind.

We invite an immediate inspection of the property, and a prospective view of all its qualities.

TERMS—One-fourth cash, balance in 5 years.

Plans and all information furnished by Mr. JOHN DEAN, 140 Federal street, and
